From Research to Practice: Role of the Fire Library

inFIRE - the international network for Fire Information and Reference Exchange - is a worldwide consortium of fire libraries and information centers. Your audience will include information managers, professional librarians, and other specialists involved in the acquisition and dissemination of fire information.

The 2009 conference will provide a forum for sharing the most recent information in fire research and technology. Papers and presentations are invited from, but not limited to, the following areas:

- Internet and intranet applications
- Virtual libraries
- Fire education
- Future trends for fire information
- Digitization initiatives

- Risk management
- Knowledge management
- Information preservation
- Advances in fire science and fire protection engineering

Submission Requirements

Plan on a delivery time of thirty to forty-five minutes, with an additional fifteen minutes for questions and discussion. Please submit a short abstract (approx. 200 words) and biographical information by December 15, 2008. Instructions for manuscript preparation and date for submission of the full paper will be noted in each author's acceptance letter. Please note that presenters are responsible for their own expenses. Send submissions to:
